HONORS PROGRAM Opportunity

Earn Honors credit by studying Rural Healthcare and Culture in

MOROCCO

When: May 8–30, 2017 (dates subject to change)

Where: 2 days in Marrakech, 2 days in Essaouira, 17 days in Zawiya Ahansal, 3 day trek and camp in the Central High Atlas Mountains

What: (HADM 494 - receive honors credit) Students will compare and contrast rural healthcare in Morocco with the healthcare system in Montana and participate in community based, healthcare-related service learning projects. Students will learn about the rich culture and traditions of Morocco, complete a three day trek in the Central High Atlas Mountains to villages accessible only by foot, and see first-hand how healthcare delivery is similar to and different from rural-frontier healthcare in the U.S.

How much: $4,250 (Financial Aid and Scholarships available for full-time and part-time students)

Included: Roundtrip international airfare; baggage fees; airport transfers in Marrakech; all lodging and meals in Morocco; translators; transportation to and from Marrakech, Essaouira, and Zawiya Ahansal; licensed Moroccan mountain guides.

Not included: Passport fees, insurance, personal expenses

To enroll: Please contact Deb Peters, deborah.peters2@msubillings.edu or 406-896-5832, for application materials.
