WHAT TO EXPECT IN 2008

Montana State University Billings men's soccer team enters the 2008 season determined to continue their drive for prominence in the Great Northwest Athletic Conference. Having gone 13-4-1 overall and 5-2-1 in their first season in the GNAC, the Jackets are poised to retain leadership in the conference with a core of 18 veteran players and a talented pool of newcomers.

In his fourth year at the helm, head coach Dan McNally remains focused on developing a pattern of consistent achievement as the Jackets vie to win the GNAC. Coming off a second-place conference finish last season, McNally is

Sam Charles

- Set school record with points in a career (62) against Metro State (9/1) passing Thomas Pertuit (61).
- Named GNAC Player of the Week (9/8)
- Scored third career hat trick (9/8) versus Mary; tied GNAC record for most career hat tricks optimistic about the Jackets' ability to continue the momentum and take the GNAC title, based on the team's make-up, skill level and exceptional defensive depth.

"We are returning a great group of players, our team spirit is very strong and we have a very good sense of togetherness on the field," McNally said. "This season we have a great defensive unit, we're solid at keeper and defending is our strength. We also have a group of excellent attacking players and are very well balanced between attack and defense."

In considering the challenges ahead, McNally notes the importance of the team being able to stay healthy as a key factor for continued success. In addition, he notes that the loss to graduation of key players like Chris Cornish, right back Josh Hernandez and left back Greg McKeever will be felt. The skill level, winning attitude and calm authority they brought to the program created excellent examples for the 2008 Jackets to replicate.

"The GNAC is very strong," McNally said. "Western Washington is an outstanding team coming back this season and Seattle Pacific University will rebound and be very strong, as well. Last year St. Martin's was a new team and I expect them to be better this year, while Northwest Nazarene is a new program that I expect to be good. There are no easy games and I think it will be a great season. If we stay focused and play at a high level consistently, we can win games."
