In Regards to Sterilization To Improve the Race, McMullen Says.

Greener, Col., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Praise for Adolph Hitler's sterilization campaign to improve the race was voiced here today by Dr. Lynn Banks McMullen, president of the Eastern Montana normal college, in an address to the summer graduating class of Colorado State college of education.

Dr. McMullen, pointing out that education can only improve intelligence, not create it, declared: "I abominate Hitler's general policies but if I am correctly informed in regard to his campaign for sterilization of the unfit, I prophesy that Germany will do more for the uplift of her society in the next 50 years, through sterilization, than we have done in 85 years through public education."

"America has been the melting pot," said Dr. McMullen. "Undoubtedly she has received many fine citizens from the old world. But she has also been the sewer for its dregs. The upper classes have always paid some attention to breeding . . . On the other hand the procreation of the unfit has been promiscuous and prolific."

Pointing out that men have learned to control river floods by barriers at the source, he said, "may we also learn to control the muddy, eroding, irresponsible flood of the unfit in the same manner."

Dr. McMullen pleaded that the "individualism of self conquest" be substituted for the "individualism of social conquest."

The educator urged preservation of democracy "by turning individualism to social service away from individual gain." He added "this slow revolution has already gone a long way in the United States." "Personally I do not fear regi-

mentation," he said. "I have been regimented all my life. I have always had to work with boards or with superior officers. I do not feel that my individuality has been destroyed or my initiative crippled. Nor has my freedom of speech been curtailed."

DR. M'MULLEN, IN COLORADO TALK, LAUDS HITLER PLAN FOR RACE IMPROVEMENT

Greeley, Colo., Aug. 17.—(P)—Praise for Adolph Hitler's sterilization campaign to improve the race was voiced here Saturday by Dr. Lynn Banks McMullen, president of the Eastern Montana Normal school, in an address to the summer graduating class of Colorado State College of Education.

Dr. McMullen, pointing out that education can only improve intelligence, not create it, declared: "I abominate Hitler's general policies but if I am correctly informed in regard to his campaign for sterilization of the unfit, I prophecy that Germany

AUTUMN MEDITATIONS

The so-called melancholy days are here. Vegetable growth has ceased but animal growth, including human growth, goes on. We, who live in Montana, should be especially happy over our opportunities for growth. The crisp fall and winter days of this region make outdoor exercise and consequent physical growth exhilarating, delightful and profitable.

Particularly, however, I want to point out that the long winter evenings that are coming should be used for mental growth. All of us do not, or have not, realized the great opportunity for reading that winter presents. I am constantly amazed at lack of reading in the lives of the people of our communities.

Education comes from real experience or from vicarious experience. Real experience is expensive and it is limited for most of us. But we may all be rich in vicarious experience. A nickel magazine will take us to Africa. In books we may relive the intellectual experiences of the wise men and women of history, and we may experience the emotions of the great characters of fiction.

I do not know any greater good that would come to our students than the realization that "reading makes a full man." A teacher may be full of methods, but unless he is also full of culture his preparation for his job is not complete.

FOOTE TAKES LONGEST TRIP

TRAVEL 6,600 MILES

Mr. and Mrs. Foote took the longest trip they have ever taken, traveling 6600 miles in all. They visited their daughter Margaret at Dillon. Miss Foote is teaching in the Home Economics department, which was planned by Mr. Foote, and held in the building also planned by Mr. Foote.

At Glasgow they visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Foote and Baby Le Roy. Don Foote is teaching in the Junior High School there. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Leon Foote at Denton, where Mr. Foote is beginning his fifth year as coach at the Denton High School.

On this extended trip they visited Mr. Foote's brother and family at San Diego, California, and saw them leave on the steamship Tatsuta Maru from Long Beach Harbor for Japan. They had dinner with them on board boat at San Francisco.

From there they went north to Portland, where they saw the government dam being built at Bonneville near Portland. Later they spent a day at Fort Peck dam. In comparison with the dam at Bonneville, Fort Peck is much larger.

American Education Week, November 11-17, will exploit the theme "The School and Democracy."

FACULTY VACATIONS LEAD AFAR

Miss Rich spent her vacation in Massachusetts, New York, Maine and Wisconsin. High spots of her trip were a visit to Radio City, a view of New York from top of the Empire State Building, and a swim in the Atlantic Ocean twice a day.

Miss Meek spent the greater share of her vacation entertaining out-of-state guests at her cabin on the Cooke City road. About ten days were spent visiting in Aberdeen, South Dakota, where she formerly taught in the Northern State Teacher's College.

Miss Terrell spent all of her vacation in Billings. She made several short trips out of town visiting some of her many friends.

ABBOTT CHECKS HISTORICAL LOCATION

Part of his vacation Mr. Abbott spent in visiting C. C. C. camps and work projects with Mr. Walt Derrick, supervisor of the Custer National Forest.

For two days Mr. Abbott attended the rodeo and celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the town of Ekalaka.

In September he made a 1600 mile trip through the eastern part of Montana to check up on some historical locations. In Minot, North Dakota he visited some of his relatives and spent one day in Fort Peck observing the work going on there.

The rest of the summer and in between times Mr. Abbott cultivated his garden. This was part of his vacation, also, since gardening is his immediate interest and hobby.

Oscar Bjorgum admits that he frittered away the summer at such sports as hunting, fishing, swimming, riding and, last but not least, devising fiendish stunts to put the various P. E. classes through. It is rumored that he concentrated the last activity on the tumbling class.

DR. McMULLEN ADDRESSES GREELEY GRADUATING CLASS

August 17th, Dr. L. B. McMullen had the unique privilege of addressing the graduating class of the Sate Teachers College at Greeley, Colorado, and at the same time conferring a degree upon his daughter, Kathryn McMullen Johnson.

After the commencement exercises forty former E. M. N. S. students, who had been attending Greeley during the summer, held a luncheon in his honor.

On the same day, his daughter Kathryn was married to Richard A. Williams, construction engineer for Chicago Bridge and Iron Works. On the first of September, they went to their home at 2215 Pineview Ave., Upper Darby, Pennsylvania.

It might be interesting to know if Adolf Hitler has kept up his payments on his paper hanger's union card, in case he needs to go back to work.

Sawdust is the dandruff from a block-head.

Dr. Hines and son Richard drove to Minnesota from where they took the train to Chicago. They were gone for about two weeks.

Later Dr. Hines and family spent several days in a cabin at East Rosebud Lake.

Mr. Stuber's summer vacation was short-lived. He and Mrs. Stuber took a trip in April, during which they visited Mr. Stuber's family in Illinois and Mrs. Stuber's in Minnesota. The rest of the summer he worked at the Normal School.

DEAN, RIDGELY AND HAWKES FISH

Mr. Dean spent his vacation at home, for variation, going on fishing and week-end trips. During the Fourth of July recess he attended the M. E. A. convention at Denver, Colorado.

On September 28, Mr. Dean addressed the opening meeting of the Midland Empire Rural Teacher's Association with a talk on "Rural Teacher's Problems." This club is composed primarily of former students and graduates of Eastern Montana Normal School.

Mr. Ridgely reports a very quiet vacation spent in fishing and camping in the mountains southwest of Denver, Colorado. He says he didn't do anything against the law or if so he didn't get caught at it. However, Mr. Ridgely didn't "sage brush" all the time. His attention was equally divided between the bright lights of Denver, Yellowstone National Park and the mountains in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkes spent several weeks camping and fishing in a "fisherman's heaven," in the mountains southwest of Denver, Colorado, this summer. They report very good fishing, and they enjoyed a very quiet vacation.

Miss Ruth Nourse spent part of her vacation in New York in the Adirondacks, and the remainder of the time doing heavy duty at her tourist camp, Pine Creek Inn, located amid the Allegheny Mountains in Pennsylvania. It is on the Roosevelt Highway.

ROBERTS STUDIES ART

Miss Roberts has much of interest to report regarding her vacation. She studied in Elizabethtown, New York, with Wayman Adams, portrait painter, and with George Miller, New York lithographer.

Trips were taken to the art galleries and many other places of interest in New York City; to Lake Placid and the top of White Face Mountain, over the new memorial highway dedicated recently by President Roosevelt; to Ausable Chasm, in the Adirondacks; and to the home of Rockwell Kent.

En route home, several days were spent in the galleries and handicraft shops in Montreal and Toronto; at Niagara Falls; and in Chicago at the Art Institute, and visiting relatives and friends.

STEVENSON SEES ALASKA

Miss Marjorie Stevenson spent her vacation going to school at the University of Washington in Seattle. In connection with her course she took a ten-day trip to Alaska under the guidance of a special teacher.

On Saturday, October 12, Miss Stevenson spoke before the American Association University Women on "What the Woman of Moderate Means May See and Buy in Alaska." She exhibited many interesting curios.

Mr. Shunk reports that he spent most of the summer convalescing and reading Socrates and Plato. However, he also made a grass collection.

Mr. and Mrs. Manion spent the first part of their vacation in various places over this state. Later they went to Indiana in their new Hudson car.

MISS RICH CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF A. A. U. W.

Miss Pauline Rich is the new president of the local branch of American Association of University Women. The branch holds luncheon meetings once a month. The other faculty members who belong to the organization are Miss Dewey, Miss Meek, Miss Roberts and Miss Nourse.

DEWEY ATTENDS P. E. O. AT PARK

During the vacation period Miss Dewey had a very severe attack of domesticity. She redecorated her house, canned, pickled, preserved and did housework.

She attended the meeting of the Supreme chapter of the P. E. O. at Yellowstone Park. There were some 1700 delegates there from all parts of the United States, from Canada and the Philippines.

From Yellowstone Park Miss Dewey went into Teton National Park where she did some photography work. She reports that she got some wonderful pictures.

NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO MUSIC GROUP

Miss Arvilla Terrell, a local graduate of E. M. N. S. in June, 1935, has been added to the faculty of this school as piano instructor. Miss Terrell has taught piano in Billings for seven years and part-time in E. M. N. S. for the past four quarters.

Preparation for her work has included training under Mr. Rauh for eight years, Mr. Stojowski one summer, and Kate Dell Marden, of Portland, Oregon.

Miss Terrell is a member of the State Music Teacher's Association and the Local Music Teacher's Association.

If Democracy is to survive it must send better raw material to its schools, said Dr. Lynn Banks McMullen, President of the Eastern Montana Normal School in addressing the Summer Convocation exercises of the College of Education Saturday morning on the campus.

Education alone does not make intelligence. It only makes more useful the intelligence that one has. Education is altogether praiseworthy, said Dr. McMullen, but it is no substitute for eugenics.

Germany will do more for the uplift of her society in the next 50 years thru sterilization than the United States has done in 55 years thru public education, said the speaker.

Belief in Education

"I do not mean to decry education," said Dr. McMullen. "I have given my life to it. Yet I do not believe in education as much as some laymen do. I thank God for these laymen of vision who support education, but I wish they would join the drive for better raw materials."

The uplift continue to bring children into the world, he said, when those who should be bettering society by better bred offspring have far too few. There are some students in college whose heredity and environment, due to the stupidity of their parents, are such that no amount of aid will do any good.

in college who are unfit for the experience, due to eugenic factors and the depression has but brought to light a condition that has been growing for years.

America has been the melting pot and though undoubtedly she has received many fine citizens from the Old World, she has also been the sewer for its dregs, said Dr. McMullen.

The melting pot idea does not produce a better race, he said. It takes training and breeding to turn out the higher type of person.

Education has taught us in the last hard years, said the Montana educator, that each individual must realize that happiness lies within himself.

Believes in Individualism

"I believe in individualism," said the speaker, "but I do not believe in the individualism of conquest, of oppression and greed. I believe that teachers everywhere now have a great opportunity to substitute the individualism of self conquest for that of social conquest. That means changes in curriculum—more art, more music, more handicrafts and science. The boy who blows a trombone is not likely to blow a safe."

Sturdy individualism must be turned inward to improve the individual and not outward to press down our fellowmen, said Dr. McMullen. Individualism is formed by associations and one of the most important factors in the social environment is service.

Service Idea Is Strong

"Today we find the idea of service strong," said Dr. McMullen. "We find experiments in service springing up
