I. DISCUSSION WITH SUSAN GILBERTZ, ACADEMIC SENATE CHAIR

Dr. Gilbertz thanked the Committee members for the work that has been done, especially moving items forward as consent. It has been very helpful to the Senate. Regarding the Pharmacy Technician program on last week's agenda and again today, there were lots of questions raised that are legitimate concerns for MSU Billings. However, the responsibility of the UCC is to assess the curriculum presented. Questions about staffing are appropriate. She met with the Senate Executive Committee, and they were in agreement that while non-curricular questions may come up at UCC, the UCC should forward those questions and concerns to the Senate. In relation to the Pharmacy Technician Program, the Senate will thoroughly discuss the Missoula MOU, but at the same time, those are concerns for the administration. The UCC and Senate should focus on the content. How the courses are administered is up to the administration of MSUB. As we work toward offering new programs to recruit and retain students, the Senate will take on the role of discussing whether those programs make sense for MSUB, but not how those programs will be paid for. The program prioritization process will likely become what we do all the time, and it's going to be different than what we have done.

Susan Floyd, Director of Nursing, stated that the current nursing program at City College is six semesters. The students have two prerequisite semesters and then apply to the Practical Nursing (PN) program. There are two semesters in the PN program and then the students can sit for their LPN exams. They may also apply to the Associate of Science in Nursing (ASN) program at this point. Two more semesters in the ASN lead to the students being able to sit for their RN exams.

With the changes presented today, the PN program will be pulled out and separated from the ASN program. Community members have been frustrated that students are skipping the PN program and going straight through to the ASN. Pulling the PN program out will also give students who may be struggling in the ASN a different degree program to choose, if needed. The PN will change from an AAS degree to a Certificate of Applied Science, a three semester program. The Certificate will be offered entirely online, with different, lower-level Gen Eds that include a different anatomy and physiology (A&P) course and a math geared specifically for the PN students. Chemistry and nutrition are out. City College has grant funding to put all the PN courses online and there are five full-time faculty to teach these programs. The ASN will stay with the six semester configuration but the titles and course descriptions of almost every course will be changed. Students who complete the PN Certificate will have to take twelve credits of Gen Ed to complete the ASN. They plan lot of up front advising with students to decide which program they should pursue.

Once these changes have been approved by the campus, they will go to both the Board of Regents and the State Board of Nursing for approval.

Ms. Floyd noted that the new A&P and math are in this group. The question was raised as to the odd corequisite for BIOH 105, which is BIOH 104, a course not offered by MSUB. Ms. Floyd stated that there are four campuses doing the PN program, but we are currently the only ones doing it entirely online. It is possible that a student will take the lecture A&P on another campus and the lab from us.

Lonnie Schrag, Nursing, Health and Public Safety, stated that this will, indeed, be our program with our courses and we will issue the degree. He noted that they added a COMX course to the program since the last meeting, as is required in City College policy.

Cliff Coppersmith, Dean of City College, stated that the community has asked for this program for some time, and they also requested that graduates receive their degree from City College, rather than Missoula. The agreement with Missoula for their faculty to teach the courses is still in draft form. Ultimately, this agreement is about maximizing resources within Montana. City College has had a proto-advisory group already working on this proposal, and the group includes many local pharmacies and hospitals. There are already tuition support and reimbursement programs at the two local hospitals for their staff.

The question was raised as to other Gen Ed requirements for Certificates, such as a math and writing course. Mr. Schrag responded that students will have to take or test out of the math and writing before applying to the Pharmacy Technician program.
